each student as a family cares for its children. We believe our school-wide behavior and classroom management practices –which we refer to as Behave with Care – help attract and retain special needs students. Our Behave with Care program is built on research-based programs for reinforcing positive behaviors, setting clear expectations, and building teacher-student relationships and peer relationships.

- Parent Involvement: To ensure that our families feel connected to the school, we have implemented several parent involvement strategies, including:

- o Newsletters: Regular newsletters from the principal and teachers are distributed to parents. Important information regarding school-wide performance, initiatives, and programs is included in the newsletter.

- o Social media: We have an excellent website, which gives parents quick and easy access to general information on the school as well as specific information about their children. In addition, we make cautious, appropriate use of Facebook and other social media sites to form connections between school leaders and parents. Parents without access to the internet can use the computer and internet available at the school.

that they know about everything from weekly schedules to educational goals for students. Teachers also share regular progress reports – via letter, online communication via the school’s AtSchool gradebook system, phone calls, and/or in-person meetings. These communications focus on each student's academic progress and performance.

o Conferences: Parent-teacher conferences are conducted twice each year. These conferences ensure that dedicated time is set aside for each parent to engage and interact with classroom teachers and discuss the progress of his or her child. As needed, staff may also conduct home visits. Each year, we conduct a family orientation at the end of the summer so new and enrolled families can meet the principal, their child's teacher and classmates, and other school staff. We believe these early contacts help establish and sustain a healthy rapport with parents.

o Parent Room: In order to help parents feel at home in the school and to encourage their presence in their child's education, the school building provides a dedicated parent room. This room gives parents a place to gather and build relationships with one another, discuss matters of mutual interest, grow more comfortable with the school, and take some ownership of the school.

In these publications we specifically mentioned that the school provides services to students for whom English is their second language.

- Fliers were distributed in Chinese, English, Creole, Russian, Spanish, and Urdu to families throughout the community. Distribution sites included daycare centers, grocery stores, community centers, and churches. These fliers invited families to attend the Enrollment Information Meeting.

- Enrollment Information Meetings were hosted regularly throughout the year for all parents interested in the school and we provided student applications in various languages: Arabic, Bengali, Chinese, English, Haitian Creole, Italian, Korean, Polish, Russian, parents quick and easy access to general information on the school as well as specific information about their children. In addition, we make cautious, appropriate use of Facebook and other social media sites to form connections between school leaders and parents. Parents without access to the internet can use the computer and internet available at the school.

- o Classroom Communication: Teachers frequently send home communications for parents so that they know about everything from weekly schedules to educational goals for students. Teachers also share regular progress reports – via letter, online communication via the school’s AtSchool gradebook system, phone calls, and/or in-person meetings. These communications focus on each student's academic progress and performance.
- o Conferences: Parent-teacher conferences are conducted twice each year. These conferences ensure that dedicated time is set aside for each parent to engage and interact with classroom teachers and discuss the progress of his or her child. As needed, staff may also conduct home visits. Each year, we conduct a family orientation at the end of the summer so new and enrolled families can meet the principal, their child's teacher and classmates, and other school staff. We believe these early contacts help establish and sustain a healthy rapport with Spanish, and Urdu. At the enrollment meetings, information regarding the EL Program and its ability to meet the needs of EL students was provided. We provided EL families with strategies to help their children in school, specific English Language Development (ELD) strategies for such parents.

- To ensure the retention of accepted students, and in compliance with federal requirements to identify potential EL students, the school asked these families to complete a “Home Language Questionnaire.” Information from this survey ensures that each child for whom English is a second language is provided the services he/she needed to succeed in school.
- Marketing materials that describe general school information and EL and Special Education programs available in English and Spanish, and other languages as requested.
- Brooklyn Dreams’ staff have participated in professional development to provide staff members with tools that they can implement in the classroom to better meet the needs of their English learners.
- Brooklyn Dreams’ staff participate in ongoing coaching provided by an EL Specialist throughout the academic year. Coaching topics focus on evidence-based teaching methods and best practices for making content accessible to English Learners.

	parents. o Parent Room: In order to help parents feel at home in the school and to encourage their presence in their child's education, the school building provides a dedicated parent room. This room gives parents a place to gather and build relationships with one another, discuss matters of mutual interest, grow more comfortable with the school, and take some ownership of the school.
Students with Disabilities	A major key to student retention is effective communication and relationship building with all stakeholders. There are multiple points throughout the year that Brooklyn Dreams keeps families informed and solicits feedback in order to improve. The dean of special education schedules individual transfer review meetings to take place within 72 hours of enrollment with the parents of every student that enters the school with an IEP. In this meeting, the dean reviews the program mandates, needs, and implementation plan for services. Parents are encouraged to bring input (questions, concerns, etc.) to this meeting to ensure a strong initial connection is made with these families and that their needs are immediately addressed. This connection continues to be built up throughout the year through additional communication measures such as quarterly IEP progress reports. once a year for an IEP review with the full IEP team. They are invited initially with a letter about a month before the meeting and then again are called by the special education teacher between a week and a day before as a reminder. Along with the invitation letter, the special education dean also sends a parent input form to help parents prepare for the review meeting and gather information from home. Following the meetings, parents are provided a post-IEP survey so that the deans can gather data to reflect and make improvements utilizing this feedback.

- Parent Post-IEP Survey Forms in digital format so that parents can provide feedback on special education processes and supports so that we are able to utilize that information to improve practices.
