Recruitment/Attraction Efforts Toward Meeting Targets

Charter Schools remains committed to serving all students, regardless of disabilities, English language learner (ELL) status, or economic disadvantage.

Since spring of 2020, we have placed an increased priority on communication with prospective and current families. Continuous dialogue with our families is pivotal in providing them with the confidence and care necessary as we all navigate the impact of the pandemic on our communities. With a focus on recruitment, we recently revamped our enrollment webpage to demonstrate a focus on our schools being in Brooklyn, which helps families to connect with the value of a high-quality local option in response to uncertainties related to public transportation or even the availability of school busing. With a focus on retention, we have equipped our schools to take the lead with personalized/decentralized communications with families. This provides the necessary, relevant information to families of our campuses from the school leaders with whom they are directly familiar. These personalized communications included school-based Wix webpage as well as frequent family newsletters with pertinent updates on our school model and resources we are providing to ensure that all students are portion of our applications. Ascend Public Charter Schools remains committed to serving all students, regardless of disabilities, English language learner (ELL) status, or economic disadvantage.

New videos on our websites show our ability to meet the needs of our diverse community of learners. F nally, we have learned that parents value Ascend virtual town halls, so we will continue them in the upcoming school year so that we are receptive and responsive to parent input.

Since the spring, we have enhanced our digital marketing efforts to ensure that we are reaching families where they are -- in their homes. Online search engine and social media advertisements strategically target our communities and drive traffic to our enrollment pages. In sharing information with our families, we now allow for our website to translate automatically with one click of a button, which makes that information immediately accessible to non-English speaking families. With teachers having increased communication with families as parents support students in remote learning, where needed, we provide translators to join the call to ensure that our families are receiving updates and pertinent resources in the language that suits their comfort.

Ascend's commitment to attracting all students, including those with disabilities, English language learners/Multilingual learners, and students who are economically disadvantaged encourages us to pursue and improve on various traditional paid advertising methods, including MTA bus and subway ads, billboards, print advertisements in local newspaper and newsletters, direct mail pieces, and flyers. These materials are regularly translated into Spanish, Haitian Creole and Bengali to increase accessibility for non-English speaking families in our communities. Our data show that most new families hear about Ascend via word of mouth. Therefore, we equip our families with the tools needed to share Ascend with their family members, neighbors and friends so that there is a personal story behind advertisements that prospective families encounter -online or in print.

As public health guidelines allow, our staff members will continue our partnership with local community organizations to access families in our community to: (1) learn their unique needs and (2) ensure that Ascend's model is responsive. V siting feeder schools was a key tactic in 2019-20 but may not be a possibility this upcoming school year, so we will focus on community outreach that includes collaborating with doctors' offices, churches, grocery stores, restaurants, early intervention service providers and agencies, public housing units, and diverse community organizations. Our prior history shows that such connections allow for us to liaise in the provision of services that families need in this era (food drives, census completion, voter registration, job fairs, toiletry distribution, etc.) and also share how Ascend is demonstrating radical care for our families through the pandemic, including connecting them with household needs resources, providing a laptop for every student, offering wifi hotspots where/as needed, handing out free school supplies, etc. Economically disadvantaged residents constitute the highest population concentration in the neighborhoods surrounding Ascend schools. We expect that through the efforts outlined above, we will continue reaching and recruiting from this population. This is important because the pandemic is impacting communities of color

"The 2019-20 school year was an unprecedented one that required us to leverage new and innovative strategies to serve our students and families. We took an adaptive and responsive approach to implement recruitment strategies to ensure that these populations make up a significant portion of our applications. Ascend Public Charter Schools remains committed to serving all students, regardless of disabilities, English language learner (ELL) status, or economic disadvantage.

Since spring of 2020, we have placed an increased priority on communication with prospective and current families. Continuous dialogue with our families is pivotal in providing them with the confidence and care necessary as we all navigate the impact of the pandemic on our communities. With a focus on recruitment, we recently revamped our enrollment webpage to demonstrate a focus on our schools being in Brooklyn, which helps families to connect with the value of a high-quality local option in response to uncertainties related to public transportation or even the availability of school busing.
