Overview

In June of 2010, the New York State Board of Regents (Regents), and the New York State Education Department (NYSED) embarked on a new approach to charter school authorizing, aligning the Regents’ and NYSED’s work with the best practices of the highest quality authorizers nationally.¹ A key pillar of this work is the Charter School Performance Framework. The Performance Framework outlines the evaluative benchmarks for Board of Regents-authorized charter schools that represent the high level of performance necessary to support student success and earn charter renewal.

The Charter School Performance Framework, which is part of the Oversight Plan included in the Charter Agreement for each school, outlines ten performance benchmarks in three key areas of charter school performance:

- Educational Success
- Organizational Soundness
- Faithfulness to Charter and Law

The Regents and NYSED evaluate these areas of charter school performance by analyzing quantitative and qualitative data and evidence compiled over the course of the school’s charter term. Though each performance benchmark is important, the Regents and NYSED consider increases in student academic achievement (for all students in the aggregate, students with disabilities [SWDs], English language learners [ELLs]/multi-lingual learners [MLLs], and educationally disadvantaged [ED] students) as the most important factor when determining to renew, revoke, or non-renew a school's charter.² Measures reflecting this priority are incorporated into Benchmark 1: Student Performance.

NYSED conducted an extensive period of research and review to develop a Charter School Performance Framework that draws from the best of what is available nationally. While the development of the Charter School Performance Framework was iterative, NYSED staff adhered to the key guiding principles below throughout the process.

The Board of Regents is an outcomes-based authorizer with a focus on schools providing community-based supports for the academic and socio-emotional development of at-risk students. We seek to proactively work with Board of Regents-authorized charter schools to hold them accountable to the standards set forth in the NYSED Charter School Performance Framework. It is our hope that by holding schools accountable to these rigorous standards, they will engage in continual reflection and improvement of academic, operational, and fiscal practices. In addition, Board of Regents-authorized charter schools are afforded a wide degree of autonomy pursuant to the NYS Education Law. To ensure real autonomy, schools must be held to real and rigorous accountability standards.

² This is a required program assurance of NYSED’s proposed 2018 federal Charter Schools Program grant to support the expansion of high-quality public charter schools and disseminate the best practices of existing charter schools.
Guiding Principles of the Charter School Performance Framework

- Focuses on performance over compliance. Each performance benchmark serves to highlight how a successful school should perform and operate in a key area. The Regents and NYSED recognize that compliance is a minimum expectation and, through the Performance Framework, places the focus on student performance. Charter schools enter into an autonomy-for-accountability, performance-based contract with the Board of Regents, and the Charter School Performance Framework establishes the Regents’ expectations for high performance.

- Preserves operational autonomy. Each performance benchmark focuses on outcomes rather than process. The Regents and NYSED must protect the building-level autonomies that allow charter schools to exercise the freedom to determine the means by which they achieve student outcomes.

- Facilitates transparent feedback to schools through clear standards that schools are expected to meet. The Charter School Performance Framework is structured to ensure that clear and transparent feedback about performance can be conveyed to charter schools throughout the charter term. Based on this feedback and other data, charter schools should be able to make adjustments to their operations and academic programs to improve performance. Standards presented in the Charter School Performance Framework are metrics that schools are expected to meet. These metrics are constructs that schools have the ability to attain through the autonomy provided to them in the Education Law.

- Aligns to the ongoing accountability and effectiveness work for all public schools. NYSED re-developed the Charter School Performance Framework during a period of broader educational innovation in New York. To the greatest extent possible, NYSED aligned the Charter School Performance Framework with its overall educator and institutional accountability and school effectiveness work, but also incorporated additional performance metrics that capture the unique aspects of charter school autonomy and accountability.

Using the Performance Framework during the Charter Term

Charter schools are encouraged to refer to the Charter School Performance Framework on a continuing basis to inform planning and as a means of self-assessing their overall health and viability throughout their charter terms. NYSED has clarified the academic indicators in Benchmark 1 so charter schools can better assess their progress toward achievement of these targets.

Using the Performance Framework for Charter Renewal Decision-Making

This version of the Charter School Performance Framework will apply to all Board of Regents-authorized charter schools authorized or renewed during the 2019-2020 school year and thereafter.

Every charter school authorized by the Regents undergoes a rigorous renewal process during the final year of its charter term to determine whether or not the school should continue to operate. The renewal process is triggered when a school submits a renewal application. Throughout the charter term, the charter school board of trustees should be continually evaluating the performance of the school based on all ten Charter School Performance Framework benchmarks. Before applying for renewal, the school's board of trustees should carefully consider whether the school has met the criteria for renewal as set forth in the Regent’s Oversight Plan, including but not limited to, the Charter School Renewal Policy and the Performance Framework. If the school is not meeting these criteria, the school’s board of trustees is not required to submit an application for renewal of the charter. If the board does not apply for renewal, the charter will not be renewed, and the school will close on June 30th of the final year of its current charter term.

If a renewal application has been submitted, the renewal process includes a renewal site visit, as well as an analysis of all quantitative and qualitative evidence collected through NYSED’s charter school performance oversight process over the course of the charter term. NYSED’s recommendation to the Regents will be based on the guidelines outlined in the Regents’ Charter School Renewal Policy\(^3\) and section 119.7 of the Regulations of the Commissioner. In addition, the Charter School Performance Framework provides: the lens of inquiry for the renewal site visit and for subsequent NYSED analysis; a summary of key findings; and will include an assessment of whether the charter school meets, approaches, or falls far below each performance benchmark (see scale below).

For all Charter School Performance Framework indicators that compare the charter school’s performance to that of the district of location, in instances where the average performance of the district of location exceeds the State average, the minimum expectation will be meeting the performance of the district of location and the target outcome will be to exceed the performance of the district of location.

Benchmark 1: Student Performance

The school has met or exceeded achievement indicators for academic trends toward proficiency, proficiency and high school graduation. Proficiency at the elementary/middle school level shall be defined as achieving a performance level of 3 or higher on all Grade 3-8 assessments. At the high school level, proficiency shall be defined as obtaining a Regents exam score of 65 or higher.

Important Notes:

- The period of evaluation for the indicators and measures presented below generally spans from the beginning of the charter term through the end of the penultimate year of the charter term. For example, if a school’s charter term runs from July 1, 2019 through June 30, 2024, the data under consideration will end with the academic results through the end of the 2022-2023 school year (including Regents testing in August 2023, if available). For renewal terms, the last year of the prior charter term will generally be considered as a baseline for the next renewal term. Any data point or prior report for the charter school, since the school commenced operation, can be presented and used for evaluative purposes.

- The source of all elementary, middle, and high school data used for evaluative purposes in this Framework shall only be from NYSED data.

- All Benchmark 1 indicators are based on New York State 3-8 ELA and math assessments or Regents examinations for all tested subjects at all grade levels and all accountability subgroups, unless otherwise indicated. NYSED reserves the right to revise these measures in order to accommodate changes in State assessments, metrics, or accountability requirements, including any new U.S. Department of Education requirements that may be enacted during the charter term.

- For the purposes of Benchmark 1, for both district and charter school data, NYSED will use former and current SWDs and ELL/MLL students as defined in the most recent NYSED SIRS manual.

- While NYSED may consider other assessment data submitted by the school as supplementary evidence for a school’s performance, NYSED will not supplant State assessment results with other assessments such as interim assessment data.

- Pursuant to NYSED’s policy of allowing for the elimination of double testing in mathematics or science for certain Grade 7 and 8 students, applicable Grade 7 and 8 students who sit for a mathematics and/or science Regents exam, for the purposes of the Charter School Performance Framework only, will included in the school’s Grade 7 and 8 mathematics and/or science proficiency rates as applicable. If the student sits for both the 3-8 and Regents exams, the student’s higher performance will be counted. Regents exam results in Grades 7 or 8 may also be reported out in a separate table and compared to similar grade levels.

- Charter schools are held accountable to performance outcomes compared to their district of location. In New York City, the district of location is the community school district (CSD). Charter schools that have a mission or key design element to serve students in a particular school district will also be compared to that school district. In addition, charter schools with more than 40% of enrolled students residing in districts other than the district of location, or the school district(s) they are mandated to serve, may also be compared to the next highest district(s) where students reside regardless of the percentage of students in the next highest district(s). Additionally, for charters with less than 25% enrollment from the district of location, comparison may be made to an additional sending district(s).

- Students labeled as “ungraded”, for both district and charter schools are included in the analysis as applicable.

- Charter high schools serving overage/under-credited students may develop alternative accountability metrics outside of those set forth in the Performance Framework, at their discretion, that can be submitted as supplementary evidence, in addition to all applicable Performance Framework metrics set forth, at the time of renewal in collaboration with NYSED. NYSED and the Board of Regents will consider this supplementary information at their sole discretion. Charter schools that are held to the standards for overage/under-credited students are defined as having a key design element or language in their mission/charter that specifically references serving overage/under-credited students.

- Charter schools are held accountable to performance outcomes compared to their district of location. In New York City, the district of location is the community school district (CSD). Charter schools that have a mission or key design element to serve students in a particular school district will also be compared to that school district. 2a. Trending Toward Proficiency (Growth)

| All Students | Aggregate Standards-Based Trend Toward Proficiency – Math and ELA | The % of students in the school maintaining a proficient testing level (3 or 4) or trending toward proficiency from one year’s test administration to the next. | Maintenance or increase in 60% of total tested students’ proficiency levels | Maintenance or increase in 80% of total tested students’ proficiency levels |

Schools can track students’ annual growth by determining the percent of the total student population who: a) moved from level 1 → 2, 3 or 4; b) moved from level 2 → 3 or 4; or c) remained proficient at either a level 3 or 4.

| Subgroups | Subgroup Standards-Based Trend Toward Proficiency – Math and ELA | The % of students with disabilities, English language learners/multi-lingual learners, and economically disadvantaged students. | Maintenance or increase in 60% of total | Maintenance or increase in 80% of total tested |

8 With limited exception, all Board of Regents-authorized charter schools are expected to meet the minimum expectations as set forth in this document. Failure to do so may adversely affect the renewal outcome up to and including non-renewal. Meeting minimum expectations is not a guarantee of renewal.

9 Failure to progress toward target outcomes may adversely affect the renewal outcome.

Benchmark 1 Data Guide

Academic information is most useful to schools when they can track, compare and predict their own data. Benchmark 1 is designed with this in mind and is intended to be a tool that schools can use to make programmatic decisions as well as track their academic standing each year of the charter term leading to renewal. Below is a guide for accessing these data indicators. While a school may be able to access school-level data reports, district and statewide data needed for comparisons may not be available until a later date. Schools should closely monitor public data release dates from the Office of Information and Reporting Services and the IRS Portal announcements as this will determine when comparative data can be accessed. The NYSED Charter School Office may update these links periodically as data reporting information changes.

Benchmark 2: Teaching and Learning

School leaders have systems in place designed to cultivate shared accountability and high expectations and that lead to students’ well-being, improved academic outcomes, and educational success. The school implements research-based practices and has rigorous and coherent curriculum and assessments that are aligned to New York State Learning Standards for all students. Teachers engage in strategic practices and decision-making in order to address the gap between what students know and need to learn so that all students experience consistent high levels of engagement, thinking and achievement.

Renewal is based on evidence that the following indicators are generally present:

1. Curriculum:
   a. The school has a documented curriculum that is aligned to current New York State learning standards.
   b. The curriculum is aligned horizontally across classrooms at the same grade level and vertically between grades.
   c. The curriculum and corresponding materials are differentiated to provide opportunities for all students to master grade-level skills and concepts, including students with disabilities, English language learners/multi-lingual learners, economically disadvantaged students, and other subgroups.
   d. The curriculum is systematically reviewed and revised.

2. Instruction:
   a. The school staff has a shared understanding of high-quality instruction that supports all learners and observed instructional practices align to this understanding.
   b. Instructional delivery fosters engagement with all students.
   c. The school differentiates instruction to ensure equity and access for all students.
   d. The school provides staff with professional development opportunities that promote best practices and improves all students’ success, including sub-groups.

3. Assessment and Program Evaluation:
   a. The school uses a system of formative, diagnostic, and summative assessments.
   b. The school uses qualitative and quantitative data to inform instruction and improve student outcomes.
   c. The school uses qualitative and quantitative data to evaluate the quality and effectiveness of the academic program and modifies the program accordingly for both individual students as well as subgroups.
   d. The school uses multiple measures to assess student progress toward State learning standards.

4. Supports for Diverse Learners:
   a. The school follows the NYSED approved identification process for students with disabilities and English language learners/multi-lingual learners.
   b. The school provides supports to meet the academic needs for all students including, but not limited to: students with disabilities; English language learners/multi-lingual learners; and economically disadvantaged students.
   c. The school has systems to monitor the progress of individual students and to facilitate communication between interventionists and classroom teachers regarding the needs of individual students.
Benchmark 3: Culture, Climate, and Student and Family Engagement

The school has systems in place to support students’ social and emotional health and to provide for a positive, safe, and respectful learning environment that prepares all students for college and career. Families, community members and school staff work together to share in the responsibility for student academic progress and social-emotional growth and well-being. Families and students are satisfied with the school’s academics and the overall leadership and management of the school.

Renewal is based on evidence that the following indicators are generally present:

1. Measures of Culture, Climate, and Student Engagement:
   a. The school has processes and procedures in place to address chronic absenteeism for all students and sub-groups such that all students are fully engaged within the school community and have access to the educational program. Given the increased autonomy to engage students, chronic absenteeism rates are expected to be equal to or less than those of the district of location. In New York City, the district of location is the community school district. Charter schools that have a mission or key design element to serve students in a particular school district will also be compared to that school district. In addition, charter schools with more than 40% of enrolled students residing in districts other than the district of location, or the school district they are mandated to serve, will also be compared to the next highest district where students reside.18
   b. The school has processes and procedures in place to address out of school suspension rates for all students and sub-groups such that all students are fully engaged within the school community and have access to the educational program. Given the increased autonomy to engage students, out of school suspension rates are expected to be equal to or less than those of the district of location. In New York City, the district of location is the community school district. Charter schools that have a mission or key design element to serve students in a particular school district will also be compared to that school district. In addition, charter schools with more than 40% of enrolled students residing in districts other than the district of location, or the school district they are mandated to serve, will also be compared to the next highest district where students reside.19

19 Student Suspension rate is determined by dividing the number of students who were suspended from school (not including in-school suspensions) for one full day or longer anytime during the school year by the Basic Educational Data System (Beds) day enrollments for that school year. A student is counted only once, regardless of whether the student was suspended one or more times during the school year.
