Formative assessment and the IAAP

Assessments that are authentic and based on real world arts-making tasks are vital to support student learning. Quality arts assessments, both summative and formative, will provide students with opportunities to engage in diverse approaches, styles and interpretations of work, and demonstrate artistic literacy within the discipline (NYS Guidance on implementing the 2017 Learning Standards for the Arts, p. 17)

An Arts Assessment Think document provides resources, and guiding principles of high-quality arts assessments
