Grade 1: Informational ECR Prompt

WRITING

Directions

Read this again. Then you will be asked to write.

Wonderful Water

Did you use water today? People use water in many ways. We drink water. We wash with water. We use water when we brush our teeth. We even play in water! Some people swim. Some people ride on boats. Some people like to play in the rain.

We all need water to live. Water is something we all share. You can help save water by using less at home. Turn off the water when you brush your teeth.

We can keep trash out of lakes and rivers so the water stays clean. We can put litter in a trash can. We can all take care of Earth's water.

WRITING

22. Now read the directions below.

The passage tells about different ways people use water. What are some of the ways that you use water?

Write as much as you can about the ways that you use water.

You may plan your writing for Question 22 here. Use the space below to organize your ideas about what to write. You can draw or write about your ideas.

Use this box to plan your writing.

we can go to the water park. Go On →

CL

Response contains a variety of expanded and complex sentences.

QL

Response contains many grade-level words and phrases (e.g., brush my teeth, grow up, swim, water park).

CR

Response includes words and sentences that sufficiently introduce and complete thoughts, ideas, or both (has an introduction and a clear and organized progression of ideas).

DR

Response includes sufficient development of an opinion with a reason and additional information (lists multiple specific uses for water and elaborates on most ideas with additional details).

M

Response is clear and contains minimal errors; errors do not obscure meaning.

CL

Response contains expanded and complex sentences (repetitive structures limit variety of sentence structures).

QL

Response contains some grade-level words and phrases (e.g., happy birthday, take a bath, wash; errors obscure some language).

CR

Response includes introductory and concluding words and sentences that provide partial organization of thoughts, ideas, or both (has an introduction, conclusion, and some related ideas, but at times ideas are list-like and lack organization).

DR

Response includes partial development of an opinion with a reason and additional information (many ideas are listed, but at times errors obscure development of ideas).

M

Response is mostly clear, but contains some errors that may obscure meaning (e.g., spelling errors: prart for party, taff for teeth, sime for swim).

CR

Response includes introductory and/or concluding words and sentences that provide limited organization of thoughts, ideas, or both (has multiple ideas about ways to use water, but ideas are repetitive and list-like, with limited organization).

DR

Response includes limited development of an opinion with a reason and/or additional information (several ideas are listed with brief additional information, but ideas are often vague and minimally detailed, and some are repetitive).

M

Response is mostly clear, but contains some errors that may obscure meaning (e.g., spelling errors: sinknes for sink, moshing for machine).

CL

Response contains simple sentences and includes at least one expanded sentence (single repeated expanded structure).

QL

Response contains common words and short phrases (errors obscure much of the language in response).

CR

Response includes a basic introduction or completion of a thought or ideas (errors obscure most ideas).

DR

Response includes basic development of an opinion or additional information (errors obscure further development of ideas).

M

Response contains frequent errors that often obscure meaning (frequent impeding spelling errors).

Grade 1: ECR Sample 5

CL

Response contains few words (errors impede successful development of sentence structure; only single words are comprehensible).

QL

Response contains at most frequently used words.

CR

Response lacks a clear introduction or completion of a thought or an idea due to brevity (majority of response is obscured by errors).

DR

Response lacks development of an opinion or additional information (majority of response is obscured by errors).

M

Response contains numerous errors that totally obscure meaning (no clear, complete thought).
