Brief Overview of the Revised NYS Learning Standards for World Languages

In 2021, the NYS Board of Regents adopted revised learning standards for Languages Other than English (LOTE) and subsequently approved a name change from LOTE to World Languages. The revised NYS Learning Standards for World Languages consist of two anchor standards—Communication and Cultures—and five learning standards for each of two language groups: Modern Languages and Classical Languages. The revised standards, which are aligned to the national World-Readiness Standards for Learning Languages, reflect 21st Century priorities as they prepare students to engage in real-world communication while developing biliteracy and interculturality. In other words, the revised standards promote College, Career, Civic, and World Readiness.

1. Interpretive Communication	1. Interpretive Communication
2. Interpersonal Communication	2. Presentational Communication
3. Presentational Communication	3. Interpersonal Communication

5. Cultural Comparisons	5. Cultural Comparisons

The revised NYS Learning Standards for World Languages are not grade-level specific. Instead, they are applied across all grade levels in ways appropriate to students’ language proficiency development. World language courses are clustered into three proficiency checkpoints (A, B, and C) each intended to be a two-year course of study in a traditional 7-12 program. For programs that start world language education prior to grade 7, Checkpoint A will begin with the first course in the sequence.* Descriptors of targeted performances for each standard at each checkpoint and course are detailed in the NYS World Language Performance Indicators. Performance indicators are differentiated for Category 1-2 Modern Languages (Roman alphabet-based languages), Category 3-4 Modern Languages (non-Roman alphabet-based languages and Indigenous languages), and Classical Languages.

Implementation Timeline

Implementation of the revised NYS Learning Standards for World Languages is a gradual process that begins in Fall 2023 with the first course in Checkpoint A and adds one course each academic year.

2021-23	2023-24	2024-25	2025-26	2026-27	2027-28	2028-29

Supporting World Language Educators' Professional Learning

Administrators' support of world language educators' professional learning is critical to their success in transitioning their instruction to the revised standards. This support falls primarily into the three categories of awareness, time, and funding. Concrete steps to take for each are described below.

- ✔ Awareness – Assure that you, every administrator, and all world language educators are aware of:
 - The revised learning standards, resources, and implementation timeline posted to the NYSED Office of Bilingual Education and World Languages \(OBEWL\) Standards and Guidelines webpage;
 - Free, live and on-demand, professional learning events announced and archived on the NYSED OBEWL Professional Learning webpage;
 - Information and updates provided in the NYSED OBEWL monthly newsletter. To be added to the mailing list, email obewl@nysed.gov.
- ✔ Time – Assure that world language educators have sufficient time to:
 - Dialogue departmentally, within and across buildings and grade levels, about the revised learning standards and their implications for professional learning;
 - Engage in professional learning communities (PLCs) to build deeper understandings of the revised learning standards and concepts that inform them, such as the High-Leverage Teaching Practices;
 - Attend in-person and virtual professional learning events individually and collaboratively.
- ✔ Funding – Assure that world language educators have the funding to be able to:
 - Purchase or renew memberships to professional organizations that support educators in implementing world language standards such as ACTFL and NYSAFLT;
 - Attend professional world language educator conferences and events that have associated costs;
 - Purchase up-to-date resources to support departmental, PLC, and individual professional learning.

Supporting the Standards Implementation Process

Administrators' support of world language educators as they follow state guidelines and prepare to implement the revised learning standards will increase the likelihood of a successful implementation. This support falls primarily into the three categories of advocacy, time, and funding. Concrete steps to take for each are described below.

- ✔ Advocacy – Advocate for world language educators to assure that they:
 - Have online access to retrieve and curate authentic resources, target language materials created by native speakers for real-world purposes. Information about authentic resources and access to authentic resources collections is posted to the NYSED OBEWL Authentic Resources webpage;
 - Feel encouraged and supported as they transition their instruction and implement new approaches with which they may feel less confident or polished.
- ✔ Time – Assure that world language educators have sufficient time to:
 - Collaborate departmentally and by level or language on the implementation process (e.g., survey strengths and assets; set goals; map curriculum; plan for vertical articulation; communicate with students and families);
 - Audit, revise, and/or create unit plans, major learning tasks, lesson plans, and performance assessments individually or collaboratively;
 - Collect and curate authentic resources for each unit of instruction;
 - Observe colleagues as they try out new approaches.
- ✔ Funding – Assure that world language educators have the funding to:
 - Be compensated for curriculum development;
 - Purchase up-to-date resources that support curriculum development.

(Modern Languages)

The Learning Standards Defined and Illustrated

To know what the revised NYS Learning Standards for World Languages look like in action, it's important to understand them individually and collectively. As defined and illustrated below, Interpretive Communication is an input-based standard, while Interpersonal and Presentational Communication are output-based standards. It is through input that learners make meaning of the target language and through output that they can interpret input and express their own meaning.

Revised NYS Learning Standards for World Languages (Modern Languages)

Communication Icons created by G. A. Suárez, Cobb County Public Schools World Languages Department and authorized for use under CC 4.0

Identifying Learning Targets with Can-Do Statements

With contextualized communicative proficiency development at the heart of the Revised NYS Learning Standards for World Languages, unit- and lesson-level learning targets are designed to reflect these priorities. Written as “Can-Do Statements,” learning targets begin with “I can” followed by a language function (purpose for communication) and meaningful context (that may be cultural or content-based). Language functions (in red above) are associated with specific standards. Meaningful contexts derive from the NYS World Language Themes and Topics. The role of vocabulary and grammar is to support learners’ ability to carry out the language function(s) in the meaningful context and may be noted in Can-Do Statements at the lesson level. The examples below align to Standard 3, Presentational Communication:

- Unit-level: I can persuade others to make environmentally-conscious choices.
- Lesson-level: I can persuade members of the school community to make environmentally-conscious choices using informal commands by creating a public service announcement poster.

World Language Can-Do Statements Compared to Other Content-Area Learning Objectives

The chart below compares world language Can-Do Statements to other content-area learning objectives.

World Language Can-Do Statements with Acceptable Evidence	Other Content-Area Learning Objectives (ABCDE Model)
I Can + <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Student-facing, student-friendly 	A – Audience <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Teacher facing: Students will be able to (SWBAT)

Identifying How Well Learners Can Perform at Three Proficiency Checkpoints

How well a learner carries out a language function and associated tasks depends on their proficiency level. Language proficiency—what students can do with language—develops with time and repeated use of the target language in varied contexts. The chart below summarizes expectations in terms of input and output at Checkpoints A, B, and C, each a two-year course of study in a grade 7-12 program. In programs that start world language study prior to grade 7, Checkpoint A begins with the first course in the sequence. More precise performance descriptors by Checkpoint and Standard are found in the NYS World Language Performance Indicators for Category 1-2 Modern Languages (Roman alphabet-based languages and ASL) and Category 3-4 Modern Languages (non-Roman alphabet-based languages and Indigenous languages).

Summary of Input- and Output-Based Performances by Language Category and Proficiency Range
Proficiency Level	Novice-Level Proficiency			Intermediate-Level Proficiency
Proficiency Sub-Level	Low (NL)	Mid (NM)	High (NH)	Low (IL)	Mid (IM)	High (IH)
Category 1-2 Modern Languages	Checkpoint A			Checkpoint B
				Checkpoint C
Category 3-4 Modern Languages	Checkpoint A			Checkpoint B
				Checkpoint C
	Input: Can understand words and phrases and the main idea from a simple, highly-predictable text with strong visual support.			Input: Can understand main ideas and some supporting details on familiar topics from a variety of texts. At the IH level, begins to understand main ideas and details of complex texts on a range of topics including those of community, national, and international interest.
	Output: Can express short, simple messages in highly familiar contexts using isolated words and phrases; may be difficult to understand.			Output: Can create with language and ask and answer questions on familiar topics in straightforward survival situations using sentences and strings of sentences. At the IH level, begins to narrate and describe in major time frames in paragraph-level production on a range of topics including those of personal, community, national, and international interest.

Revised New York State Learning Standards for World Languages Part 3 of 3: Interpreting Standards-Based World Language Teaching (Modern Languages – Danielson Correlations)

Observing Standards-Based World Language Teaching

When world language teachers implement the Revised New York State \(NYS\) Learning Standards for World Languages, their teaching differs in important ways from other content-area teaching. (This contrast is presented in Part 2 of 3 of the Administrator Reference Guide.) As a result, what can be observed in standards-based world language teaching may not be easily associated with Annual Professional Performance Review (APPR) rubric criteria that more explicitly reflect elements of other content area teaching. This World Language Observation Guide makes visible those elements of standards-based world language teaching that are unlike other content-area teaching, supports administrators to interpret them, and identifies suggested—but not exclusive—correlations to commonly-used NYS-approved APPR rubrics. The World Language Observation Guide is not an evaluation instrument.

Purposes for Using the World Language Observation Guide

Some purposes for which world language and other administrators might use the World Language Observation Guide include:

- ✓ To become familiar with the unique features of standards-based world language teaching;
- ✓ To provide informed support and professional learning opportunities for world language departments and teachers as they implement the revised learning standards; and
- ✓ To inform pre-conferences, observations, and post-conferences with world language teachers.

World language educators may also find this guide useful as they plan standards-based lessons, prepare for observations, carry out peer observations, and reflect on and self-assess their own teaching.

The World Language Observation Guide

The World Language Observation Guide, organized in two charts, presents all elements that may occur over the span of multiple lessons and units. The first chart identifies elements that may be found in a standards-based world language lesson plan. The second identifies elements that may be observed in a standards-based world language lesson. Although there is space for noting whether the element is observed, users will likely only observe some of the elements in any single lesson plan or lesson.

Just as elements in the World Language Observation Guide are specific to standards-based world language teaching, so are some terms used in the guide. Here is an alphabetical listing of those key terms:

- ✓ Authentic Resource: Material created by native speakers of the target language for native speakers of the target language for a real-world purpose
- ✓ Can-Do Statement: Student-facing learning target worded “I can + language function + context”
- ✓ Context: The settings or circumstances that motivate and inform target language communication
- ✓ Language Function: The communicative purpose for which students use the target language
- ✓ Mode: Contextualized, purposeful approach to communication categorized as Interpretive, Interpersonal, or Presentational
- ✓ Performance: What students can do with the target language in rehearsed situations
- ✓ Proficiency: What students can do with the target language in non-rehearsed, real-world situations
- ✓ Task: Opportunity for students to purposefully communicate in the target language

		The Teacher...
1.		Displays and draws students' attention to the Can-Do Statements .
2.		Conducts the lesson and interacts with students predominantly in the target language .
3.		Uses verbal strategies (e.g., repetition, deliberate pace, pauses, synonyms) and non-verbal strategies (e.g., gestures, visuals, objects) to facilitate target language comprehension ; regularly checks for student comprehension .
4.		Uses strategies that contextualize vocabulary learning.
5.		Prepares students to interpret an authentic resource (e.g., builds vocabulary knowledge, builds cultural background knowledge, establishes purpose, models comprehension strategies).
6.		Makes unsimplified authentic resources accessible to students through instructional choices (e.g., chunking, pausing, repeated listening or viewing of the authentic resource).
7.		Provides students with tools and supports for making meaning of the authentic resource (e.g., questions, prompts, graphic organizer, time).
8.		Engages students in Interpretive tasks appropriate to the proficiency target and the authentic resource type.
9.		Engages students in Interpersonal tasks to meaningfully interact and negotiate meaning with one another.
10.		Engages students in Presentational tasks to express personal meaning to an audience.
11.		Provides students with tools and support for expressing meaning (e.g., functional chunks, gambits, word wall, chat mat) and extending discourse (e.g., rejoinders, sentence starters and frames).
12.		Uses strategies that contextualize grammar and connect it to a communicative purpose .
13.		Engages students in inquiry into cultural practices, products, and perspectives . Students carry out the inquiry using the target language .
14.		Engages students in making cultural comparisons . Students make the cultural comparisons using the target language .
15.		Prompts student reflection on learning and self-assessment using the Can-Do Statements.

Revised New York State Learning Standards for World Languages

Part 3 of 3: Interpreting Standards-Based World Language Teaching (Modern Languages – NYSUT Correlations)

Observing Standards-Based World Language Teaching

When world language teachers implement the Revised New York State \(NYS\) Learning Standards for World Languages, their teaching differs in important ways from other content-area teaching. (This contrast is presented in Part 2 of 3 of the Administrator Reference Guide.) As a result, what can be observed in standards-based world language teaching may not be easily associated with Annual Professional Performance Review (APPR) rubric criteria that more explicitly reflect elements of other content area teaching. The World Language Observation Guide is not an evaluation instrument.

Purposes for Using the World Language Observation Guide

Some purposes for which world language and other administrators might use the World Language Observation Guide include:

- ✓ To become familiar with the unique features of standards-based world language teaching;
- ✓ To provide informed support and professional learning opportunities for world language departments and teachers as they implement the revised learning standards; and
- ✓ To inform pre-conferences, observations, and post-conferences with world language teachers.

World language educators may also find this guide useful as they plan standards-based lessons, prepare for observations, carry out peer observations, and reflect on and self-assess their own teaching.

The World Language Observation Guide

The World Language Observation Guide, organized in two charts, presents all elements that may occur over the span of multiple lessons and units. The first chart identifies elements that may be found in a standards-based world language lesson plan. The second identifies elements that may be observed in a standards-based world language lesson. Although there is space for noting whether the element is observed, users will likely only observe some of the elements in any single lesson plan or lesson.

Just as elements in the World Language Observation Guide are specific to standards-based world language teaching, so are some terms used in the guide. Here is an alphabetical listing of those key terms:

- ✓ Authentic Resource: Material created by native speakers of the target language for native speakers of the target language for a real-world purpose
- ✓ Can-Do Statement: Student-facing learning target worded “I can + language function + context”
- ✓ Context: The settings or circumstances that motivate and inform target language communication
- ✓ Language Function: The communicative purpose for which students use the target language
- ✓ Mode: Contextualized, purposeful approach to communication categorized as Interpretive, Interpersonal, or Presentational
- ✓ Performance: What students can do with the target language in rehearsed situations
- ✓ Proficiency: What students can do with the target language in non-rehearsed, real-world situations
- ✓ Task: Opportunity for students to purposefully communicate in the target language

Item #*	Observed?	Observable Lesson Plan Elements (Note: Not all elements listed below will be observed in all lesson plans.)
1.		Lesson plan is part of a meaning-based unit that reflects the NYS WL Themes and Topics .
2.		Lesson plan includes Can-Do Statements aligned with the NYS WL Learning Standards for Communication in the Interpretive, Interpersonal, and/or Presentational Modes.
3.		Lesson plan includes Can-Do Statements aligned with NYS WL Learning Standards for Culture , including Relating Cultural Practices and Products to Perspectives and Cultural Comparisons.
4.		Each Can-Do Statement specifies a language function and a meaningful context .
5.		Acceptable evidence for demonstrating each of the Can-Do Statements is stated in terms of performance tasks .
6.		Learning tasks are appropriate to the proficiency target as defined in the NYS WL Proficiency Ranges and Performance Indicators for Category 1-2 languages or Category 3-4 languages .
7.		Authentic resources are used for Interpretive mode (input-based) learning tasks.
8.		Interpersonal and Presentational mode (output-based) learning tasks follow from Interpretive mode learning tasks (which may have taken place in a previous lesson).
9.		Tasks for engaging students with cultural practices, products, and perspectives and cultural comparisons promote inquiry and use of the target language .
10.		Instructional strategies for vocabulary and/or grammar learning are contextualized and connected to a communicative purpose .

Item #*	Observed?	Observable Lesson Elements (Note: Not all elements listed below will be observed in all lessons.)
		The Teacher...
1.		Displays and draws students' attention to the Can-Do Statements .
2.		Conducts the lesson and interacts with students predominantly in the target language .
3.		Uses verbal strategies (e.g., repetition, deliberate pace, pauses, synonyms) and non-verbal strategies (e.g., gestures, visuals, objects) to facilitate target language comprehension ; regularly checks for student comprehension .
4.		Uses strategies that contextualize vocabulary learning.
5.		Prepares students to interpret an authentic resource (e.g., builds vocabulary knowledge, builds cultural background knowledge, establishes purpose, models comprehension strategies).
6.		Makes unsimplified authentic resources accessible to students through instructional choices (e.g., chunking, pausing, repeated listening or viewing of the authentic resource).
7.		Provides students with tools and supports for making meaning of the authentic resource (e.g., questions, prompts, graphic organizer, time).
8.		Engages students in Interpretive tasks appropriate to the proficiency target and the authentic resource type.
9.		Engages students in Interpersonal tasks to meaningfully interact and negotiate meaning with one another.
10.		Engages students in Presentational tasks to express personal meaning to an audience.
11.		Provides students with tools and support for expressing meaning (e.g., functional chunks, gambits, word wall, chat mat) and extending discourse (e.g., rejoinders, sentence starters and frames).
12.		Uses strategies that contextualize grammar and connect it to a communicative purpose .
13.		Engages students in inquiry into cultural practices, products, and perspectives . Students carry out the inquiry using the target language .
14.		Engages students in making cultural comparisons . Students make the cultural comparisons using the target language .
15.		Prompts student reflection on learning and self-assessment using the Can-Do Statements.
